SEGMENT DESCRIPTION

RFM Analysis segments customers based on three key metrics: Recency, Frequency and Monetary value. These metrics help businesses understand customer behavior and tailor marketing efforts effectively.

1. Recency (R)
- what it measures: How recently a customer made a purchase or interacted with the business.
- what its important: Recent customers are more likely to respond to promotions or offers.

2. Frequency (F)
- what it measures: How often a customer makes a purchase or interacts with the business.
- what its important: Frequent customers are more loyal and ideal for upselling or retention campaigns.

3. Monetary (M)
- what it measures: How much money a customer spends within a given period.
- what its important: higher spenders are more profitable and should be targeted with personalized offers.
